NATION SILENT AS HERO IS BURIED

Thousands of World War Veterans in State Send Up Peace Thanks Friday

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 11.—Muskogee today staged one of the biggest Armistice Day celebrations in her history. There were special church services, patriotic programs in all the schools, a mass meeting under the auspices of organized labor, and a large parade.

Civic organizations sent speakers to all schools to deliver addresses on Americanism. John Wilkinson, president of the United Mine Workers of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, and Edgar Fenton, president of the Oklahoma Federation of Labor, were to address the labor gathering.

A feature of the parade was the first public appearance of the half million dollars' worth of equipment of Battery B of Muskogee. This equipment included four 155 millimeter guns that were stationed in public places following the parade, for inspection purposes.

Flags Were Overseas.

TULSA, Nov. 11.—Four interesting flags will be displayed here Armistice Day. While none of these flags have been discolored by the smoke of battle, their story none the less is interesting as all of them were unfurled in foreign lands during the world war.

Col. Ira Reeves, manager of the chamber of commerce here is the custodian of three of the flags. During the war, Colonel Reeves organized the A. E. F. University at Beaune, Cote d'Or, France. During the four months this institution was in existence, with its 18,000 resident students and 50,000 correspondent students "Old Glory" waved above the university. Every evening "The Star Spangled Banner" was played on the parade grounds followed by the lowering of this flag.

After this ceremony, the Marcellaise was played as the French flag, which flew beside the American flag, was lowered. The University flag of its own, known as the A. E. F. U. flag, and all three of these flags are to be displayed at the University of Tulsa and the American flag will be used in a flag raising ceremony.

Jules Constantine is the custodian of an immense American flag which was carried into Russia by the Red Cross unit to which he belonged. The flag measures 40 feet in length. At one time the party lost it and had to send back after it. This flag will be used in a flag-raising by the Knights of Columbus.

CHICKASHA, Nov. 11.—An Armistice Day program of remembrance was planned by the Raymond T. Hurst Post 54, American Legion, for Chickasha.

Remember three years ago with what delight and joy you welcomed the news that the Great War was over and with what frenzy you celebrated the day? The post asks. "Now that the boys are home let us show them we still remember."

In the morning, 10:30 to 11:30, services are to be held in the Methodist church, and the Rev. Dr. G. Austin will give an address. A prayer will be held at 11 o'clock, in honor of the "unknown" soldier, who is to be buried at Arlington cemetery.

A parade forms after noon at 12:30 and Chickasha avenues and former service men joined with business men to prepare floats and pageants for the parade. A community sing, and a football game are to be held in the afternoon, and the affair closes with a street dance in the evening.

Jack Hart Confesses To Bad Check Charge And Takes Sentence

Jack Hart, erstwhile rough rider and alleged bad check artist, plead guilty in district court yesterday before Judge J. W. Bolen on several bogus check charges and was sentenced to a year and a day in the state penitentiary.

Hart will be taken away to McAlester by members of the sheriff's force soon.

Five counts were listed against Hart on the records here. He appeared here during the spring round-up and performed at the fair grounds in roping and "broncho-busting" stunts. A little later, according to officers, he obtained money on a series of checks written on an El Paso, Texas, bank. Inquiries revealed the fact that there were no funds there to his credit, officers declared.

Hart's confession was heard shortly after that of Charles "Shorty" Thompson, who entered a plea of guilty to helping in the robbery of the Fitchburg State bank.

PAVING DEBATE PLACED BEFORE DISTRICT COURT

Restraining Order Sought on Paving of North Mississippi.

IS CONTRACT LEGAL?

City Commissioners Say Transaction Was Not Beyond Authority.

Hearing on a restraining order, the petition for which has been filed by property owners in paving district Number 9, on North Mississippi avenue, was opened before Judge J. W. Bolen in district court this week but has been continued until Monday when it is expected a decision will be handed down.

The petition seeks to stop work that has been started under the direction of I. E. Hanson, contractor who has taken the job.

Attorney C. F. Green, representing a group of the Mississippi property owners, alleges that the city commissioners acted beyond the law in granting the contract for paving, under the existing conditions. City commissioners, together with J. W. Dean, city attorney, and attorneys for the contractor declare the contract was valid and that all acts of the commissioners were legal and in conformity with requirements of the city charter.

ARMISTICE DAY

MOTHERS GATHER TO HONOR YANKS KILLED IN WAR

(By the Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Armistice day was observed throughout the country today with religious services, the planting of memorial trees, and the closing of schools. Millions of Americans paused to pay silent tribute to America's unknown dead soldier. A little army of gray haired women, New York's gold star mothers, marched to Madison Square garden to utter a prayer while the Unknown Soldier, symbolizing all the sons they gave to their country, was laid to rest with a nation's homage, in Arlington cemetery.

The mothers' more than 1000 of them, were escorted by a guard of honor made up of infantry men, blue jackets and marines.

SMALL TOWN ALMOST DESTROYED BY FIRE

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 11.—Half of the business district of Nuyaka, a little town between Slick and Okmulgee, in Okmulgee county, was destroyed by fire early this morning, according to information received here. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

"Hermit's Eat Grass and Bark"—headline. Gone to the dogs.

County Shrine Club Seeks Bringing of Ceremonial to Ada

Ada may have a Shrine ceremonial, to be held either in January or April, if plans now being formulated by the Pontotoc county Shrine club materialize, members announced Friday morning.

A meeting of the club will be held next Wednesday night at the Masonic hall here and plans for landing the reunion will be discussed. At this time, it is expected, a definite plan of action will be outlined and all Shrines of the city and county, regardless of whether they are members of the club, are urged to be present.

Ada, it was explained, lies in a neutral district between the Muskogee and Oklahoma City Shrine districts and in case the ceremonial is brought here, scores of Shrines from both the India temple in Oklahoma City and the Bedouin temple in Muskogee will attend. This would be the first Shrine ceremonial to be held in the city.

The Nance well in section 4-4-5 is not pumping today, the shut down being made necessary to change from a steam to a gasoline engine. Reports from the field are that it was pumping satisfactorily when the shut down occurred late Thursday evening.

NEW FIRE TRUCK MAKES VALUABLE LOCAL ADDITION

The fire department was considerably strengthened today by the addition of a new truck to fire fighting apparatus. The new truck, which has been ordered for many months, arrived in the city Thursday and was unloaded Thursday afternoon. It came built and ready for service and was driven to the station as soon as it was unloaded at the Katy depot.

Fire Chief Somer Jones stated Thursday afternoon that he was well pleased with the truck. This makes the third fire truck the city now has in its fire department. Chief Jones is planning to use the small truck that has been in use as a chemical wagon, convert the new truck into an all-use truck and use the large truck for pumping purposes. This will give the department all the apparatus needed for the city, it is believed.

The storage space of the fire department was recently doubled and the department now has ample storage room for the three trucks, the chief's car and other material. The new truck has all the parts of the large truck, cost $12,800 and is believed to be one of the most complete fire fighting machines in the state. It was built by the American La France company of New York and has all the latest inventions.

Big Guns Knell Homage For Fallen Yank Today As Many Gather in Funeral Cortège

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—With all the honor a grateful nation could pay, the Unknown Dead, symbol of the nation's unnamed soldiers who died in France, was laid to rest in Arlington cemetery today.

High officials of the army and navy were behind the coffin and bands made up of his gallant comrades in the world war were at the head of it. President Harding was behind the bier to do him homage. Former President Wilson made his first public appearance since his retirement from office.

Minute guns boomed out continually as the funeral procession was passing from the capital to the great marble amphitheater in Arlington where the ceremony was opened with the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner," by the Marine Band.

Long before the rising sun came out from behind a low bank of clouds, a long column of soldiers, sailors and marines began making their way to the capital, there to receive into their keeping America's Unknown Soldier and to accompany him to his final resting place in Arlington. The day promised to be clear and sharply tooled—an almost exact duplication of the first Armistice Day three years ago. There was scarcely a breath of wind stirring and the half-masted flags everywhere about the capitol hung stationary.

NOTE OF THANKS ON WORLD PEACE SOUNDED IN ADA

Armistice Speakers Say the World Must Not Again Have Awful War.

LEGION GREAT FORCE

Former Service Men "Carry on" Faithfully, Harrell Declares.

Thanksgiving for the victorious ending of the war and a prayer for disarmament and universal peace was the key note of Armistice Day celebration at East Central Teachers' College today from 10 to 12 o'clock. Admiration for the achievements of the Americans in all branches of service was voiced.

The auditorium was filled to capacity when Supt. J. E. Hickman called it to order. The first number on the program was a selection by the high school band, under direction of Prof. Hill. Rev. C. C. Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church and chaplain of the local legion, offered opening prayer. Prof. Whipple read the proclamation of President Harding declaring this a legal holiday. This was followed by a patriotic selection by the Normal chorus led by Miss Keller.

President Linscheid was the first speaker of this occasion. He took as his subject "An obligation un- (Continued on Page Three)

Ceremony opens Early.
Just as the first of the sun's beams touched the Statue of Liberty, beneath which lay the unknown dead sharp commands began to ring out about the capitol and portions of the military escort began to take their place.

Historic Pennsylvania avenue, which today was to see a new tribute to the nation's dead, was roped off and all traffic was stopped as the inaugural parade passed over its broad way. There was a stir about the capital and at 7:30 automobiles were in waiting to take President Harding to the capitol where he was to take his place in the procession of the nation's chief mourners.

Flowers were sacked high about the bier of the national hero. They had remained there through the night and were gathered up tenderly by friends who bore them to Arlington cemetery.

Guard Breaks Ranks.
As the band outside played "Nearer, My God, to Thee" the coffin was lifted upon the shoulders of the body-bearers and taken through the east door. The honorary pall bearers followed. There was no ceremony in the rotunda and as the body was removed the staid guard of honor that had stood about it through the night broke ranks.

As the flower strewn casket was borne down the broad steps of the capitol, soldiers stationed in line along the steps and the assembled thousands stood at attention.

Home at last from France, an unknown American soldier, was laid to rest with all homage a grateful people could pay.

For him a people stood at pause a little apathetic, the rush and tumult of a nation's hurrying life stilled in reverence.

For him a President gladly truged afoot through the streets, chief mourner to tell a people's proud sorrow for the dead.

For him admirals and generals and judges and statesmen hung off their weight of disabilities and years to walk humbly with lesser folk and do him honor.

For him the world's most precious tokens for the valiant were laid upon his bier; crosses and medals and ribbons and the tears of mourning mothers; comrades standing apart among men for their high-hearted deeds of courage alone might touch his casket; cannon roared him a last glorious salute.

And for him, a shattered, nameless boy from some battle field in France where his great sacrifice was made, was provided a place for his long sleep that "kings for such a tomb could wish to die." Yet in it all, after all, there was little of sorrow. There was pride and circumstance and the ordered movement of martial pageant; but over and under it all there was everywhere a note that spoke of the swelling spirit of brotherhood of the nation, the democracy that brought the highest and lowest shoulder to shoulder about the tomb of the unknown soldier who gave his all for the flag.

Honor is Complete.
There was nothing lacking in the spectacle. From the moment when a November dawn peered in through the high windows of the capitol rotunda where the dead soldier lay in state, until the shock of a battery salute rocked the hills over the river to proclaim that the dead had come at last to his final rest, nothing that human mind could devise or human hands contrive to do this soldier honor, had been left undone.

The national capital led the nation today in doing homage to the unknown soldier from France.

Ada Wild With Joy When Wires Flashed News of Armistice

November 11, 1918.—President Wilson issued a formal proclamation at 10 o'clock this morning announcing that armistice with Germany had been signed. The greatest war in all history is over after 1567 days of horror.

November 11, 1921.—Practically the entire civilized world unites in honoring America's "unknown dead." Delegates are assembled at Washington for opening tomorrow morning the international disarmament conference.

Such is the story, in brief, that bridges a span of three years—thirty-six months on the calendar of world events but only a day on the mental calendar of millions of American soldiers, including thousands of Oklahomans, who served in the World War.

While untold multitudes are turning back their thoughts to the scenes that reigned everywhere upon announcement of the Armistice, Ada has an interesting little chapter of her own that will ever remain an outstanding landmark among events that will not be forgotten. It was a delicious city which three years ago celebrated without restraint as burdened telegraph wires brought tidings that the war had ended.

Interesting Chapter.
What the city did on Monday, November 11, 1918, from 2:40 a. m. when the Associated Press began to flash the biggest news it had ever carried, until bonfires and orators had disappeared from the streets late in the night, will make up perhaps the most thrilling chapter in local history.

Five editions of the Ada News, then a four page paper, were issued on the first Armistice Day. Blasting of whistles at an early hour in the morning called members of the News force to the office and at 4 a. m. the first extra edition was on the streets. The town was awake. Newsboys rushed through the gathering crowds screaming in chorus and throughs gathered in front of the newspaper office, thirsty for additional information. At 11:45 that morning, four editions had been published and the last, or "home edition," came hot off the press at 4 p. m., carrying 215 inches on the Armistice. This was more than it has ever carried on a single story before.

Most of the front page of early editions of the News was devoted to President Wilson's proclamation and later editions told of his address to congress, outlining terms of the armistice with Germany.

An outstanding feature of the day's celebration in Ada was a parade at 10 o'clock in the morning, extending from Broadway to the Normal. It was headed by the Chamber of Commerce band which was followed by high school cadets and the S. A. T. C. Hundreds of citizens, white and black, carrying patriotic banners and bunting of all descriptions, followed.

Entire Town Celebrates.
The S. A. T. C. unit at East Central Normal gave an exhibition drill before a big crowd of spectators; the Oklahoma Portland Cement company declared a holiday on full pay; patriotic speeches were delivered by Robert Wimbley, Rev. Bonile Grimes, H. A. Fairchild, Luther Harrison, and Rev. George W. Peck. A campaign was inaugurated here on the same day to raise funds for carrying on war work and relief for men overseas.

The final edition of the News carried a letter from A. L. Bullock, now an attorney at Roff, postmarked "somewhere in Italy" and dated "October 4, 1918." A call for a meeting of thanksgiving, to be held at the Methodist church here, was also published.

Some of the scenes that were enacted upon the streets of Ada as the clicking of telegraph keys and the rumbling of presses spread new developments on Armistice is pictured in a description of the local celebration as told in the News "home edition."

"The city of Ada was delicious this morning. It came to life at an early hour. The news of the signing of the Armistice was given out from the office of the Secretary of State in Washington at 2:50 this morning, Washington time. At 2:40 o'clock in the morning it was in the office of the Ada News. At 2:50 the whistles of the city began to tell the glad tidings.

Streets thronged.

"At 3:30 several hundred people were on the streets and the office of the Ada News was crowded. At 4:30 the News had issued its first edition and the citizens knew definitely and satisfactorily that the end of the great struggle had come.

"The celebration broke loose in earnest at 5 o'clock, the hour for actual fighting on all fronts to cease. Guns belched forth in noisy chorus, resounding the good news. Automobiles honked and shot from one end of Main street to the other. Women slapped men on the back and chatted with strangers. People wept and laughed.

"All reports say not one person in Ada was asleep after 3:30. Women, who had not been accustomed to walking a block were seen promenading on the street before daylight.

"As the third edition of the News goes to press the boom, boom, boom of big guns can still be heard. The town is crazy with joy. Danger is smiled at. Women walk between men firing guns and do not seem to care."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

AN END TO WORRY:—Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus, Phs. 4:6, 7.

THE ARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Today there assembled in Washington a conference which will try to end the work that was started at Versailles and stopped in the United States senate. This time the president will not be haunted by an unsympathetic opposing party. The democratic members of congress will enter into the spirit of disarmament.

Judging from utterance of Lloyd George, there will be no hitch from the representatives of the British empire. This great statesman is quoted as saying:

"Man is the most unteachable of all animals. If you inflict punishment upon any other animal he quickly learns the lesson. But, take the late war; it was the most terribly destructive in the history of the world. For that devastation competition in arms is largely responsible.

"That lesson was scoured deep into the flesh of the world, and yet no sooner are we out of it than the nations spend their substance in devising and amassing fresh engines for war; fresh subjects spring up everywhere to justify war. You might imagine that the one purpose and glory of national organization was human slaughter.

"Armaments today are thrice as expensive in men and material as they were before the great war; at the present rate they will soon be a hundred times as destructive and terrible. In peace the burden was crushing; in war the effect will be too terrible to contemplate.

"Disarmament is the only road to safety for the human race. Suspensions, fears, misunderstandings, even quarrels, are as inevitable among nations as among individuals, and, if a deadly weapon is ready at hand, one day they will strike. The American conference has the future civilization in its charge; therefore I earnestly pray for its success."

So far as the naval armaments are concerned, there is little to fear from France, Germany or the other European Countries. Japan is the unknown quality. If the little yellow people will agree to disarmament on sea, the chances are that naval growth will be stopped.

The conference must succeed. To fail is to invite disaster. The world will not go back to building giant navies and maintaining large standing armies without a protest and a protest of no mean dimensions.

The eyes of the world are on Washington. The American big four, Lodge, Knox, Root and Underwood, must pave the way for permanent limitation of armaments and the freedom of the world from excessive taxes to maintain useless armies and navies.

THEY CARRY ON

It is fitting indeed that the busy world turn aside from daily cares to meditate over the results of the World War. Three years ago today the American troops fired their last shell into the retreating German ranks. In that three years, almost the entire army has been mustered out, and the young men are back at their desks, in the stores, on the farms and at a hundred and one other tasks.

The United States demonstrated a new thing in war. With almost no army as a nucleus, the men were called from civilian life and in a few weeks were sent against the best German men. These so-called raw troops demonstrated that troops the forty years of training had been able to make of a love of country, keen personal judgment and a democratic feeling are more than mere training.

The American troops are back home. They have not received the material things they are entitled to. But they are not complaining and are "carrying on" today to make a great national commerce and industry just as they carried on to turn back the on-coming hordes of Prussians. In Washington today a tribute is being paid to the unknown hero, a tribute which is meant not only for the dead but also for the living.

England is to begin paying back her indebtedness to America, starting with 200 million dollars a year. England has her enemies throughout the world, but one thing they have to admit is that she is solvent always and has always come to the aid of freedom and democracy when aid was needed. Even the American Revolution is not an exception to this statement for most of the real English sympathized with the colonies and did nothing against them.

If the world went as every man wants it run it would be necessary to create about as many little worlds as there are individuals and assign every fellow a world of his own and let him run it to suit himself.

Are We Losing the Home?

(McAlester News-Capital)
Much has been said with tongue and pen on the subject of home life in America. There are untold volumes of printed matter setting forth the fact that today the home is not doing either for children or grown-ups the thing for which it was designed the providing of opportunities for wholesome family life. And in these volumes there probably may be found some suggestions on how it is possible to make the modern home yield these opportunities.

But unless we address ourselves actively to the task of putting into practice our voluminous preaching on this subject we shall not advance greatly toward a solution of this problem. It is not a pleasant picture which M. S. Pittman, director of rural education, Michigan State Normal College, drew of the present-day home in his talk to the county normal teachers last week.

"Father is absent, mother has abdicated her throne, and the pleasures of the children are found away from home. The divorce court is busy, and the apartment house is crowded," said the speaker. But however distressing this picture may be the important thing is to face the fact, if it be a fact. On this we may well be some disagreement. We may not all see the prospect in the same light in which this educator beholds it. There may be many families in which this deplorable state of affairs does not exist.

It would be folly to regard this thing lightly and to hold that it will remedy itself. No permanently wholesome life either in the community or for the nation can be built on a substantial basis unless home life and home training play a great part in this process. The situation is not to be taken lightly. Nor will it remedy itself in the course of time, if as this educator maintains, we are going in a direction away from it.

The obvious conclusion is that if we cherish ideals that make for desirable manhood and womanhood and for more efficient citizenship, we can't afford to lose sight of the fact that these ideals are best maintained in the home. Their instructions may help in this process; but they can only help. It may be that the writing of many books on this subject and the delivering of many lectures will help us to realize this; and to that end they serve a good purpose. But the real remedy to the waning influence of the home in a thorough recognition of what we are losing when home and family life becomes less important with us, and in a resolute determination to prevent this at all cost.

The Menace of the Unfit.

(Lawton Constitution)
Scientists who study the ways to improve the human race are not very optimistic over the prospects of producing a better stock through improved breeding. Reports to the eugenics congress held in New York last month indicated that the rule of a king in the select and breeding from the unfit is still in force, with little hope of repeal.

A French eugenicist says: "In France the war gave a blow to the superior elements which may prove to be mortal. The best of our young men have perished or been invalided in the proportion of at least two to three." A New York statistician reports that the ratio of patients with mental disease under treatment in institutions per 100,000 of population increased from 118.2 in 1890 to 220.1 in 1920.

The conclusion of best authorities is that most can be done to combat these evils by thorough education of the people and by segregation of habitual criminals, the insane and defectives.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, dizziness, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious complications. (adv)

SHE WAS WORRIED OVER HER DAUGHTER

"Only a mother can know how worried and desperate I was about the condition of my daughter, Blanche Watkins, who I could see was losing weight and strength every day and how grateful I am to Tanlac for restoring her to perfect health," said Mrs. Bertie Cloonan, 320 East Third st., Oklahoma City, Okla.

"About six years ago my daughter began complaining of pains in her side and back, and from that time until recently she didn't know what it was to have a well day. On account of the awful suffering whenever she ate a hearty meal she got so she was almost afraid to eat anything. She was restless and nervous both day and night and I was almost in despair over her condition."

"The help brought her from the very beginning was a revelation to me, for I had not believed it possible for a medicine to reach her case. All her troubles are gone now, she is full of life and energy and looking better than I have seen her in years."

Tanlac is sold by M. A. Waits and all leading druggists. (adv)

STUDENTS WILL HOLD OWN MEET ON ARMAMENTS

(By the Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A disarmament conference, at which student delegates from seven hundred religious colleges in the United States will meet here on November 13 and 14 has been arranged by Dr. A. W. Harris of New York, secretary of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal church. The meeting is called by the boards of education of the Protestant churches in co-operation with the council of church boards of education, the bureau of education of the Catholic hierarchy, the educational section of the conference of American Rabbis, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. The opening session will be heard on Sunday evening and will be inspirational.

Dr. Harrison in calling the meeting for disarmament says:

"To the youth of the land now in college and high school the significance of President Harding's attempt may be vastly greater than to any men of middle age or old age. To these younger men it means a vast change in mechanical and financial conditions, and it may mean the sacrifice of life in military service of multitudes of young men now in the schools, or of their children."

"No part of the community has a better right to speak than those who must carry the burdens and meet the troubles of the future."

"Believing this, I determined to call a convention of our schools, colleges and foundations, to meet in the city of Chicago to consider the problems of disarmament, and to take such action as might seem appropriate. On my suggestion, the secretaries of other church boards have joined me and will send out a similar invitation to their institutions to be represented in the same convention."

NOTE OF THANKS SOUNDED IN ADA

Part of what the American Legion has done, nationally and locally, was set forth by Lowery Harrell, local attorney and former commander of Norman Howard post of the Legion.

Nations Hark Back.

"Three years have passed since runners dashed across the battlefields of France and carried to farthest outposts the order to cease firing. And today, Nov. 11, 1921, the nations are going back to the spirit of Nov. 11, 1918. At the eleventh hour of the mist-hung morning of the eleventh day of the eleventh month of 1918, an entire world threw off the spell of war and stood upright in a new age. It was as if another Easter had come," he said.

come. In America, as to the whole world, Armistice Day will hereafter be essentially a day of rejoicing, but this year a note of solemnity dominates the harmony of our joy in peace. Our to our dead, that their many receive part of their need of honor, will be discharged to the best of our ability in the burial of an Unknown American Soldier, representative of all unidentified American dead of the world war. The body, selected is home from France and the nation has no honor to great for him.

"In our tribute to this unknown soldier, we pay a tribute of praise and glory to all those sleeping in far off France. It is their home coming today, their day of days in the heart of the nation, and it is symbolical of the return to mother country of all those who died in defense of its honor. In what more fitting place could this soldier's body lay in state than in the place where only martyred presidents have slept in death.

Legion Active Body.

"Now a word as to the Legion. On September 30, 1921 we had 10,734 posts, with posts in 17 foreign countries. We have established ourselves as one of the dominant factors in the life of the state and nation. We have not concerned ourselves with political, sectarian or industrial disputes but have driven steadily onward toward the goal of a greater America. Its growth in the past year has been phenomenal, not so much in numbers as in influence.

"The work of the Legion is done primarily through committees, the one most engaged, especially when Congress is in session, is the National Legislative Committee. The Legion has acquired a position of influence with both Congress and the executive departments because it has come to be recognized as a sane and sensible organization.

which when its voice is raised, may be relied upon to speak authoritatively after painstaking investigation and research.

Gains in Legislation.

"The Legion's achievements in the field of national legislation while not up to a full realization of the program mapped out for it, represent a substantial amount of ground gained in the last year. Its two outstanding legislative feats have been of course the passage of the bill creating a consolidated veterans bureau and decentralizing its work, a measure for building a system of adequate relief for the disabled; and securing from Congress an appropriation of $13,600,000 for additional hospital facilities for wounded and disabled veterans. Much other ex-service legislation has been enacted during the year which I will not enumerate here, and there are other pieces of legislation that are being pushed forward, and the Legion hopes to have them passed, among which is the Fess-Kenyon bill authorizing training for widows and orphans of men killed in the service, of Americans disabled in the Allied service of all men with disabilities of as great as 10 percent. But I cannot continue to dwell on legislative acts alone.

"The true measure of the Legion's greatness is the fact that it is functioning in almost 11,000 communities over the United States. It is truly a national institution, demonstrating to the country that it is worthy of the confidence that has been placed in it. It functions in the present with its hopes toward the future; it works hard day by day and makes plans for tomorrow."

"Mr. J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind. Dear Sir: You ask us if we are disposing of the one gross Mendenhall's Chill and Fever Tonic we have been purchasing from you monthly at retail as this is an unusual quantity for a retail druggist to buy. For your information we will state that our best physicians are prescribing your chill tonic almost daily with better results than quinine or any medicine used for malaria, chills and fever. We have a customer who was all run down, pale and emaciated and had a cough. Some physicians pronounced his case consumption. One of the doctors here prescribed a bottle of

City in Statement.

A statement, as set forth by the city, declares that a petition was presented to city commissioners on August 15 and 16 asking for the paving of the avenue, and that the petition bore the signatures of 59 per cent of the owners of property that would be assessed. The city attorney declares that it then became mandatory upon the commissioners to take steps toward having the street paved. The city further affirms that no protest petition was filed until several days after the contract was let.

Objecting property owners declare they represented more than half of the property owned along the stretch in question and that the proposal to pave was not given due publicity. It is further alleged that certain property in Sunrise addition is not within the corporate limits of the city. These are some of the grounds upon which an injunction has been asked.

on to face another such catastrophe?

He paid special tribute to the valor of the American forces, how the marines had held their ground against overwhelming odds at Belleau wood, winning the name of "Devil Dogs" from the enemy how the soldiers had swept everything before them on battlefield after battlefield, sometimes remaining in the front lines for weeks without relief, but all the time buoyed up with the hope that they were fighting to abolish war. The heart of the nation is in the work of the disarmament conference at Washington and the prayers of millions are going up for its success.

Interposed in the program were other musical numbers, a solo by Oscar Parker being among these. The concluding number of the occasion was a patriotic drill by high school girls costumed in the American flag.

THREE MEN ENGAGE IN BATTLE OVER CHILDREN

The dawning of Armistice day forecasted little peace for three men who were arrested last night and brought before Justice of the Peace W. H. Fisher this morning on a charge of fighting. They were Ed Barringer, T. J. Hill and A. G. Wilkerson. Hill and Wilkerson plead guilty and were fined $5 each. Barringer made bond for his appearance Monday.

The fight, which was said by officers to have been a free-for-all bloody fistic encounter, resulted from a row over children of one of the men who were alleged to have been struck by the other two.

Millions Now Living Will Never Die

—Judge Rutherford

In a free lecture at McSwain Theater Sunday afternoon, it will be conclusively proved by many biblical prophecies, which have been fulfilled during the past four years, and from many others still in course of fulfillment, that many thousands now living in this city will never die.

"In this instance, do not deceive yourself into believing that 'where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise, because life everlasting on this earth as a perfect human being will depend upon the individual knowledge and understanding of and acquiescence in the rules of conduct that are to govern the world in its reconstruction now in progress and ever after."

In a startling and comforting lecture, "Millions Now Living Will Never Die," Mr. Rice offers a reasonable and satisfying solution of many questions raised by the conflicting claims of orthodox creeds, Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir Conan Doyle, Christian Science practitioners and the various faith healing sects. No matter what your present ideas on this great question may be, you should hear—

B. M. RICE, of Brooklyn, N. Y.
At McSwain Theatre
SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 13th. 3 P. M.

"For there shall be great tribulation, such as has not been since the beginning of the world until now (1914-1925), no nor ever shall be, and except those days be shortened, no flesh would be saved; but for the elect's sake those days will be shortened," and millions now living will never die. Hear the evidence, then judge and rejoice.

"I want the statement 'millions now living will never die' to be taken literally, as it is, in the light of fulfilled prophecy, a provable Biblical proposition."—J. F. Rutherford.

the unemployment problem; posts have established employment bureaus, have influenced authorities to undertake public works which give jobs to the jobless; and where the occasion demands have established the old mess line for those veterans, who need immediate assistance.

Audience in Silence.
Captain Harrell closed promptly at 11 o'clock and the audience rose and stood in silent reverence for two minutes followed by a prayer for the successful termination of the deliberations of the disarmament conference at Washington by Rev. Hatch, rector of the Episcopal church.

"The task of the world is the prevention of future wars," was the central thought of Tom D. McKeown's address. Unless this is done all past sacrifices were made in vain and civilization is in grave danger, he declared. Ninety-four percent of the revenues of the national government are devoted to military purposes, going either on past wars or preparation for possible ones in the future. The people are groaning under a load of taxation for all purposes that exceeds the total value of the cotton, corn, wheat and tobacco crops produced in the entire nation and must be relieved of part of this if they are to survive.

War Took Big Toll.
The world war, he said, cost more than 7,000,000 lives directly and practically 17,000,000 directly and indirectly. Shall it ever be called

YEAST BEST WHEN TAKEN WITH IRON

IF WEAK, THIN OR RUNDOWN
TRY THIS NEW TREATMENT
IN TABLET FORM—WATCH
THE QUICK RESULTS.

Everyone has heard of the apparent wonders performed by yeast in restoring thin, sickly, and run-down people to health. And now it is found that even more surprising results are brought when yeast is taken with iron, the great blood-builder.

People who for years were weak, pal anemic, and all run-down are regaining their strength and health almost as if by magic through this remarkably effective combination of tonics. And the best of it is that you can take it in pleasant tablet form—no need to eat yeast cakes, which are so disagreeable to many. The preparation in which these two great health builders have been combined is known as Ironized Yeast. This contains highly concentrated brewer's yeast which is far more effective than ordinary baker's yeast because it is richer in vitamins. Vitamins, as we all know, is the mysterious element which Science has found to be so absolutely essential to health. Due to modern methods of food preparation vitamins are lacking in most of our commonest foods—and that is why so many of us become sickly and run-down.

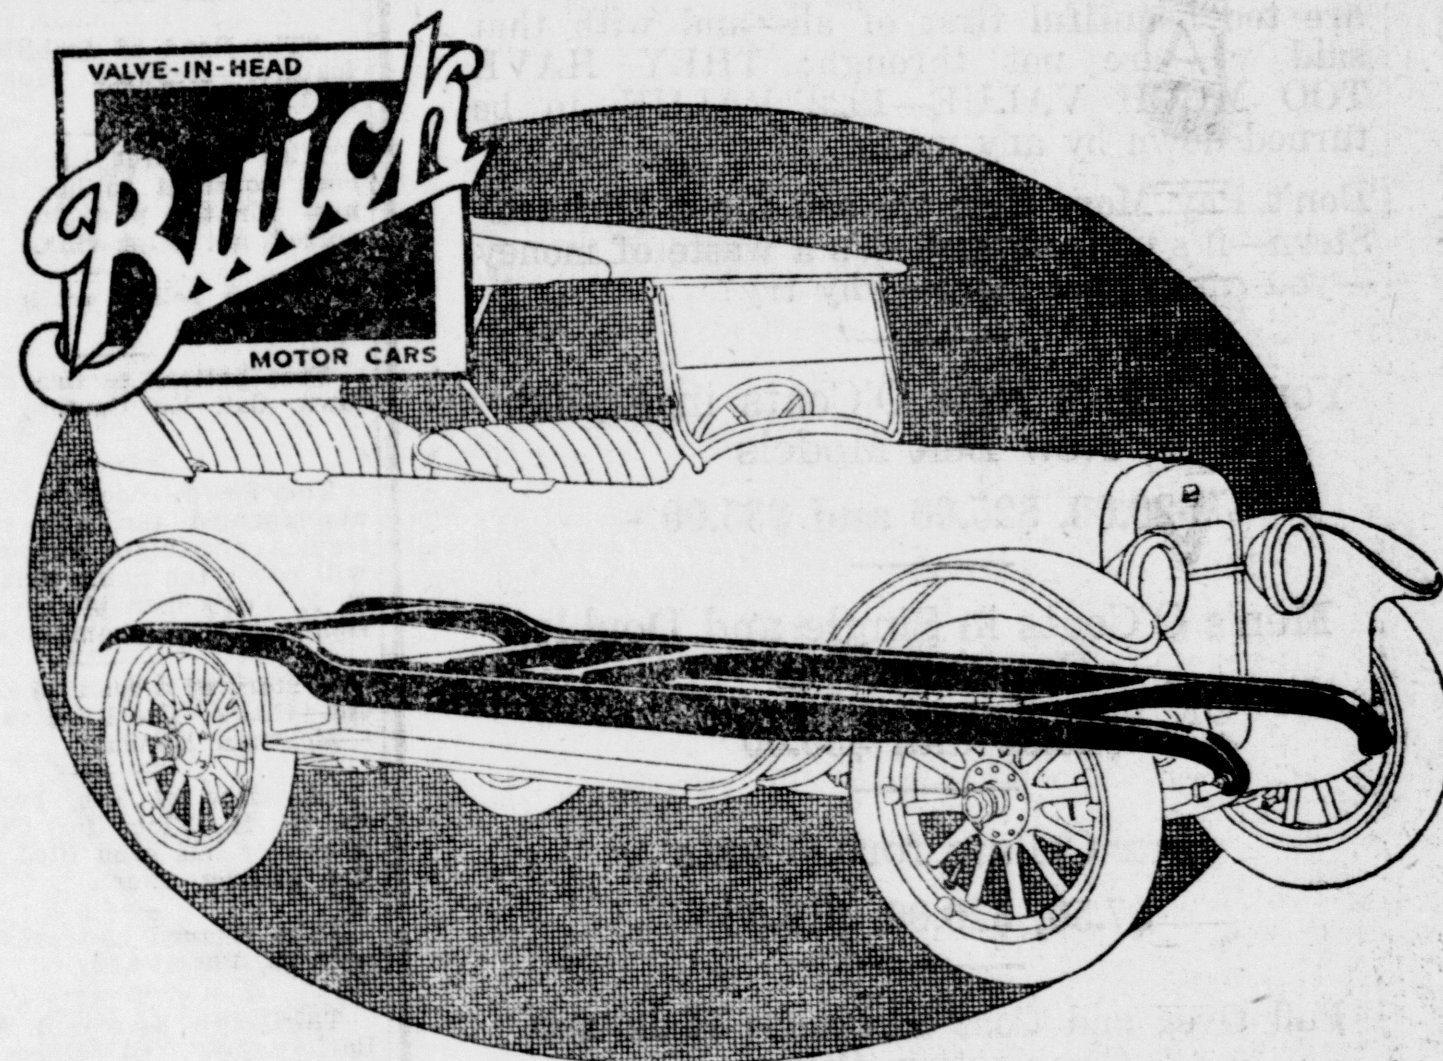

If you are suffering from loss of strength, if you are frequently exhausted, if your food has no taste for you, if you are irritable, thin, pale nervous, or generally run-down, then try this remarkable new tonic.

Ironized Yeast will in most cases bring a decided improvement within three days. It will usually clear up sallow or muddy complexions within ten days. From everywhere comes enthusiastic reports of what it is doing for people.

It is packed in patented Sanitape packages and will keep indefinitely. Its cost is no more per dose than common yeast. Each package contains 10 days' treatment and costs only $1.00 or just 10¢ a day. Special directions for children in each package. Made by the Ironized Yeast Company, Atlanta, Ga.
